

Mates of State, Help Help

Can't you see what's happening on the sidewalk?
Nowhere to go, nowhere to go
It's getting so old

Oh oh, we're lying down
Oh oh, so we can listen to the ground

Can't you see the seams cut in the shoreline?
I'm throwing sand into your hand
Let's paint the whole world

Oh oh, we're lying down
Oh oh, so we can listen to the ground

Help help, can you help help
Don't hesitate
That is why they say it
That is why they say it

Help help
I will meet you on the cellar floor
That is why they say it
That is why they say it at all

Help help, can you help help
Don't hesitate
That is why they say it
That is why they say it girl

Help help, can you help help
The cellar floor
That is why they say it
That is why they say it

Can't you feel the shifting of the stale air?
He doesn't care
Her vacant stare is getting so cold

Oh oh, we're lying down
Oh oh, so we can make a louder sound

I wake up, all I see is new
I witness scenes that I improve
Momentum pull us through

Help help, can you help help
Don't hesitate
That is why they say it
That is why they say it

Help help
I will meet you on the cellar floor
That is why they say it
That is why they say it at all

Help help, can you help help
Don't hesitate
That is why they say it
That is why they say it girl

And I'll meet you on the cellar floor
That is why they say it

That is why they say it at all

Help help help help help help help help
That is why they say it

Help help help help help help help help
That is why they say it
