

Matisyahu, Father In The Forest

(Loose English translation)

A scream and a cry and a yell.

A father in the forest searching for his children.

Children, children where have you gone to.

Because of me you have forgotten.

Children, children come home to me.

Because I am lonely to be sitting all alone.

Father, Father we cannot come home.

Because there is a guard standing by the door