

Matt Wertz, All Because

I'm turning clouds into mountains
Like water into sweet wine
I'm closing the mouths of lions
Just around supertime

I'm turning gravel roads into golden highways
And I'm living off morning dew
It keeps getting easier these days
And it's all because of you

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you

You've turned my blackened heart into living
Given me this fertile land
Turned my selfishness into giving
And made my two left feet to dance

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you

Now I've made mistakes
Lord you know I've fallen so short
But you continue to bless me
My unfair Lord

I'm turning clouds into mountains
Like water into sweet wine

It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you
It's all because of you
