

Matt Wertz, I Will Not Take My Love Away

I will not take my love away
When praises cease and seasons change while the whole world turns the other way
I will not take my love away
I will not leave you all alone
When striving leads you far from home
And there's no yield for what you've sown
I will not leave you all aone
I will give you what you need
In plenty or in poverty
Forever, always, look to me
And I will give you what you need
