

Matt Wertz, Some Days

Some days
are so bright I wish that I could save Half the sunlight for a rainy day
So when it rains, I have some sun
Some days
are so green I wish that I could keep Half that color stored in me down deep
So when it's brown I have some green
It's already getting better
You will never leave me
It's already getting better
You will never leave me
Some days
I'm so close to you that I can't feel
A sweet song singing to me in my ears
Some days I just don't want it to end
And some days
The words come crawling out and cover your face
Need some hooks so I can slip some way
Without standing here alone
It's already getting better
You will never leave me
It's already getting better
You will never leave me
'Cause good things come easy good things go
Feeling all these feelings, I'm feeling so
I can't explain the joy I feel on some days
Oh, some days
Already getting better
You will never leave me (some days)
Already getting better
You will never leave me
