

Matt Wertz, Song For The Irrational

You say you want something rational and you say you need a cold heart, fast Do you realize how far you stray from truth in your quest for your rational proof

(Chorus)

The song for the irrational
the song for the irrational
the song for the irrational

'Cause you say you want something rational and you say you need miraculous sides Excuse me if I'm the one, who's been mistaken here
But your logic seems to be a bit unclear

(Chorus)

The song for the irrational
the song for the irrational
the song for the irrational
the song for the irrational

(Organ solo)

(Guitar break)

'Cause what I've shown slips past your oh-so blurry eyes
As my soft touch knocked on those oh-so vicious lies
