

Matt Wertz, Way Back To Yesterday

They say that hindsight's always 20/20
I think I'm just beginning to see
The hurtful words meant to impress you
Flow from the very heart of me
Don't look now because my foot's in my mouth once again

And I'm on my way back to yesterday
To take back the words that I didn't want to say
I'm on my way back to yesterday
Just praying that I'll find my way
On my way back to yesterday

Tuesday came before I ever really knew
Regretting me, I left you
But the sun set too early or the moon rose too quickly
And now I must find my way back

Don't lose me now
I'm losing you
