

Matteo Bocelli, For You

Matteo Bocelli prezentuje piosenkę "For You" zapowiadającą premierę debiutanckiej płyty "Matteo"

These are desperate times
You know I hate this town but I stay for you
Even though it hurts
You know it's coming straight from the heart

I don't go to church
But every now and then I still pray for you
I'll always sing this loud
So you can hear wherever you are

Till there's no sand in the hour glass
Until our futures become our past
Until our youths just a photograph I live for you
I will run on to broken glass
I will stand in the burning grass
I'd set fire to everything I have

And it's for you
It's for you
It's for you

We were only kids
And everything was good it was positive
Who turned out the lights
And how'd it ever get so dark

City to the beach
Don't recognise the streets when your home again
Until you see the people
And everything that made who you are

Till there's no sand in the hour glass
Until our futures become our past
Until our youths just a photograph I live for you
I will run on to broken glass
I will stand in the burning grass
I'd set fire to everything I have

And it's for you
It's for you
It's for you...
