Matthew Sweet, Evergreen

As soon as I found you baby you know They took you away You put your little hands together and You started to pray But all your prayers they brought no answer Your faith was a lie

And there's no difference Between the earth and the sky There's no reason We have to die

Whenever you talk that way you know You're breaking my heart How can we ever come together when We're playing these parts In every love there is a promise So baby don't you cry

'Cause there's no difference Between the earth and the sky There's no reason We have to die

In every love there is a promise So baby don't you cry There's no difference Between the earth and the sky There's no reason We have to die
