

Matthew Sweet, Heaven And Earth

When it shines the sun is hot,
And what you need you ain't got.
Heaven and Earth
Are hardly worth it.
We'll begin the race by living in ecstasy.
You may have your mind to show
But you've got no place to go.
Heaven and Earth
Are hardly worth it.
We'll begin the race by living a life of ecstasy.
We'll begin the race by living in ecstasy.

(Solo)

Will you share with me to live
What nobody wants to give?
Heaven and Earth
Are hardly worth it.
We'll begin the race by living a life of ecstasy.
We'll begin the race by ripping a rib for you from me.
We'll begin the race by living a life of ecstasy.
We'll begin the race by living in ecstasy.
