

Matthew Sweet, Love Is Gone

Got a feeling deeper than anguish
It's only getting worse
You're at the end
Begin again

Now the season's changing over
And there's nowhere to turn
You've lost the song
Love is gone
You have to see
Love is gone

Dreams will drift apart from reason
And once they disappear
They must be made
To come again

We're covered up by expectations
Ground down by circumstance
Beyond your grasp

Love is gone
You have to see
Love is gone

'Cause when you had one
It was as real as the sun
Now it's a shadow of light

Dreams will drift apart from reason
And once they disappear
They must be made
Love is gone
You have to see
Love is gone
You have to see
Love is gone

Now the season's changing over
And there's nowhere to turn
