

Maya Wasserman, Silence.

It's just the sun coming out
From behind the clouds
And on the streets now I see only overcrowds
I wanna run away from this noise
I just want silence
But I have no choice

My friends keep telling me
How different I am
They ask questions
They talk, but when I told them
That all people finally grow
They left me all alone

I just want silence
I just want peace
I'm done with fighting
I want release

I just want quiet
I want no war
I'm done with battling
I want to grow!

It's just the sky turning black
'Cause it's getting late
And every day people fight
They're full of hate
I want to run away from this place
I just need silence
But I have no space

My friends are mad at me
For leaving the room
And I'm just tired 'cause
I don't know what I could do!
To help this poor world survive
It's driving me crazy!

I just want silence
I just want peace
I'm done with fighting
I want release

I just want quiet
I want no war
I'm done with battling
I want to grow!

I don't wanna fight no more
I don't wanna lose what's mine
I don't wanna argue, no
I don't wanna lose control
/2x

It's just the sun coming out
overcrowds
But I have no choice
