

Mayday Parade, Just Say You're Not In To It

A show of hands, who has said these words before
With a show of hearts on the floor, who has ever meant them more
Well I'll swallow my pride if you'll stay for the years
And watch me spin circles as I disappear
Hearts, they don't lie they just quiver in fear
As you say
Tonight we, forget everything
And stay the night
If I was wrong then I'm sorry
I'll stop this fight
For the night
And this empty space left in the seat
To my right where you should be says a lot
Don't let it say goodbye
And today I know that tomorrow is going to shine golden and bring our hearts back home
And today meant nothing, because you're gone
And I swear that this meant everything to me, because my hearts not home
