

Mazzy Star, Had A Thought

Had a thought that you might be coming home
Made myself up while I was alone
You said one thing and now it's a shame
That you're leaving without anything
To say
You believed that the stars come from the left
I have something you might need to know the rest
You believe
It's okay
Everybody's just looking out north
For that one dream that comes every night
In your smile there are many a ways to cut
Your pain
Uh-huh