Mazzy Star, Take Everything

I can't believe your thinking Save everyone, inside you Take everything Fake everything Save everything About me

All of you, all right Just because, I want to know Do you still come last night clear eyes pale You never got there even though you say you will Sorry now that you've fallen from my eyes That's the truth

Why are you telling me about everything Why tell me about anything You're just waiting for her to come apart You're just waiting for her

Take everything Fake everything Save everything
