

Mc Mario, Two Train

Hmmmm.....

this is the home town two train, 42nd next watch the closin doors

There's a baby girl that i know and she's so fine i meet her everyday-i-ay afterschool walking to the train to spend some time cause what a poppa don't know, won't hurt me momma thinks that ima cutie she can't date till sweet sixteen but we just tryin to do our thang chorus

so i meet her at the two train everyday ridin all the way to the hundred and tenth i get to hold her hand, whisper in her ears the only time i get the time is on the two train(is on the two train, yea, is on the two train) is on the two train we always meet in the back of cars so no one else can interrupt so much to talk about, so little time i wish we didn't have to rush cause by 40 seconds to have her listen, 70 seconds reminiscin, ninety-six street barbers start ? and ima about to do my thang

chorus

i can't wait till we don't have to worry bout no one has to say cause we'll be free won't have to sneak around nomore we're here now and the future not so far away so until that day i'll say

chorus

fading

around two train, next stop hundred and ten street it's on a two train