

McLusky, Support Systems

think of life as a battle between ghosts and liars or think of it as a barrier to self-fulfilment is everybody made of skin here? yes, we're all made of skin and bone and ligament

let's hear it for the bi-peds
those horrible monsters let the hotel line manages decide their fate

those grinning mogodons with their painted on slogans

salt and its stains

think of death as a medium-sized yellow robot that should help
