

Me Without You, Orange Spider a note we wrote the other day to any mice who pass this way on crumbed and sugared countertop:

"we must insist your traffic STOP."

in their defense, they don't refuse but nonetheless we've come to use snapping traps and poison beans (far less diplomatic means) orange spider,
orange leaf
confirms my deepest held belief