Medicine, A Fractured Smile

i've played with love and been burned every time. and that's the way it goes as i lean close to you. it's reaching out that rhythm makes me sick. with head in hands and hands on hips. you'll never know what i need cause no words pass through tightened lips i don't ever make it easy to lay between my hips it's just a small thing calling down the rain i've tried to make it easy to live inside my pain i scoff at love and then sweat through the night 'cause i like what i see i love the laugh torn from your side pressing on top of me i try to make it easy to live inside my brain it's just a small thing calling down the rain i've tried to make it easy to live inside my pain it's just the small things that bring you to mind. a fractured smile and butterfly kiss. so kiss me now and kiss me sweet. i've never know it to be quite like this. i try to make it easy to live inside your kiss
