

Mega City Four, Stop

The further away I get

The sharper are the lines

You need some distance

To help you redefine

The harder I look at you

The less you dissapoint

I realize no one's to blame

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

For something so important

it's so little

Think about the things you value and not about the cost

You've gotta get things into perspective without it you are lost

They say actions speak louder than words whoever they may be

Probably the one's who'll break your back to bolster up their insecurity

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

For something so important

it's so little

Reach down inside

swallow your pride

Don't be afraid

Forgiveness is a virtue not a crime

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

You might hear something you're missing

Stop and listen

For something so important

so little....
