

Megadeth, Insomnia

I'm running in quicksand something's haunting me the guilty past I've buried my mind won't let me sleep

I'll do anything for peace - I keep waking up a solemn oath I make cross my heart please let me sleep - I keep waking up how much more do I take

My head is talking to me
I don't know what it needs but the loudest voice is the one I heed

Insomnia, my swollen bloodshot eyes Insomnia, awake till morning light Insomnia, stirring deep inside Insomnia, somebody turn out the lights
I can't sleep - insomnia

I'm twisting and turning - I keep waking up the madness I must tame my candle is burning - I keep waking up both ends again today

The whole house is creaking
I know they're out there the things kept from sight
I beg to the shadows
I can't sleep

Insomnia, footsteps on the walk Insomnia, I hear someone knock Insomnia, I wish it was a dream Insomnia, can you hear me scream
