

Meganoidi, The Main Line

I'm looking for all my footsteps (no regrets) it's just my natural need to hold on the line with what I have been what is today means nothing it's coming back it's getting back it's own meaning chorus.

and I was just waiting for a bridge like this I'll keep on looking for the words which make me feel good everywhere

You remind me of a grate moment in my life and I enjoy myself finding you the same

the best remedy for my stomachache I can't justify myself anymore sometimes I miss myself I miss the one who was smiling so indifferent about his own business this is the only way to turn my music my lyrics into what I really want into what I really need to be
