

Meghan Trainor, Take Me There

We ain't got a reason to get out of bed
Just going through life not living yet
We need motivation and no more regrets
'cause we can still dream, let's not forget

Well, I know, I know, I know how to ease your mind
Let go, let go, leave all of this shit behind

Let's make the most of this moonlight
Let's raise them up 'cause there might never be a chance like this
Let's find a way to the west coast
Don't hesitate, 'cause there won't ever be a chance like this
And you know I wanna be there
Come on and take me there
You know I wanna be there

You think I'm crazy
Can't just pick up and go
And how can we start again?
No friends, and everything no
Oh baby believe me, and I'm gon' put on your shoes
Sooner the better, I bet you ain't got nothing to lose

I know, I know, I know how to ease your mind
Let go, let go, leave all of this shit behind

Let's make the most of this moonlight
Let's raise them up 'cause there might never be a chance like this
Let's find a way to the west coast
Don't hesitate, 'cause there won't ever be a chance like this
And you know I wanna be there
Come on and take me there
You know I wanna be there

And all I see is you and me
We will be on the beach, under the bon trees
Ever day is like 80 degrees
Don't think too hard
It's not that far
As long as I got you every day is one

I know, I know, I know how to ease your mind
Let go, let go, leave all of this shit behind

Let's make the most of this moonlight
Let's raise them up 'cause there might never be a chance like this
Let's find a way to the west coast
Don't hesitate, 'cause there won't ever be a chance like this
And you know I wanna be there

Come on and take me there
You know I wanna be there
And you know I wanna be there
Come on and take me there
You know I wanna be there
