

Meja, Flower Girl

My , Oh my. Days are passing by Little flowergirl today it's long ago Memories,
starts to dance inside my head
A chapter of my past, just won't let me go

The mirror reminds me of how it used to be Pictures are flashing and suddenly I see

How you walk into the room
Just like a flowergirl
Deep inside of me
I feel the flowergirl
Little flowergirl

So far away,
tell me why you could not stay Was it me who forgot or you who caused the change

Now I can see all those dreams that fade away
What does it mean, when you're coming back this way

And you walk into the room
just like a flowergirl
It couldn't be to soon
little flowergirl
Little flower

And here we are, standing face to face
And don't you go, cause now you found me your all around me, I thought I'd let you know
