

Mekong Delta, Imagination

[R. Hubert, R. Hubert]

Can't they imagine that we (don't) need no more no more fighting
'cause what is it for
They all fooled us
These stupid rulers
Those who followed soon were swallowed
And what they told us has never been untrue Don't they feel that there are other things to do
What are they there for
If they rule no more
What are they there for
Time to end the suffering
Out of nothing something
And we will not discuss it anymore
Time to stop the fighting
Nowhere left for hiding
And on all of our leaders we wage war
Time to stop the talking
Destiny is knocking
And you can't run away from the door
All these discussions about these stupid wars
Only talking as if they can't do more
What the past shows
Is when fear grows
All these leaders
Talk like preachers
Then they move people like puppets in a store
Without a feeling
They will move some more
What are they there for
If they rule no more
What are they there for
Time to end the suffering
Out of nothing something
And we will not discuss it anymore
Time to stop the fighting
Nowhere left for hiding
And on all of our leaders we wage war
Time to stop the talking
Destiny is knocking
And you can't run away from the door