

Melanie Doane, Waiting For The Tide

I cry up to the man in the moon Hes the only one can help me now I bought the line that as long as I tried I could not leave empty handed But I've done all I can do and now I leave it up to you

I'm waiting for the tide to turn
Waiting for the tide to turn Waiting, waiting for the tide
to take me
To take me away

Goodnight moon
I should be talkin' to Neptune He's the one who will teach me patience For whomever rules the sea is now the ruler over me

I'm waiting for the tide to turn
Waiting for the tide to turn
to take me

So I have proved some things cant be moved And here I wait and the water's creeping up to my chin I am

waiting for the tide to turn
Waiting for the tide to turn waiting, wiating for the tide
to take me
