

Melanie Fiona, Gone And Never Coming Back

sad that memories never die just fill your head with why then you're caught living a lie again its sad that all he ever said was that he loved me to death but that hes gone again and I was wrong again cause you think its easier easy like that just when I wasn't finished you were gone like that cant you hear me crying

cause I need you back
and I'm slowly dying
cause I need you bad
but your gone
and never coming back
gone and not coming back hes never coming back

should've known the long kiss goodbye would bring sadness in my life wearing this disguise again I wish that you would've said or lied to me instead like a bullet to my head like a fool I pretend that its on again on again

whoever said look on the brighter side has never been on mine whoever said that he'll get his never felt like this ain't no use in crying when you're done like that cause baby baby you took something that I cant buy back and now you're gone and never coming back coming back
oh hes not coming back
