

Meligrove Band, Our Love Will Make the World G i must have died a hundred times and i'm still breathing each chance to get things right leaves my heart beating your fatalistic thoughts imply despite the impending if means can overwhelm us more than just the ending

my heart is getting tired in circles spinning
all the things that we started are neverending

your love will make the world go round our love will make the world go round it's time that i cleaned up my act and start the healing i don't see how it could last without that feeling i guess it's true though we do lack that real devotion but we'll do what we can with these emotions

my heart is getting tired
in circles spinning
all the things that we started are neverending (x2)

but i (i) will (will) try (try) ooh i will try

your love will make the world go round
our love will make the world go round (x6)