

Melissa Dori Dye, Autumn Rain

i am the autumn rain my tears are filled with pain as i fall down in life with every wind that blows somehow i always know life goes on after life my love, your dreams
if they're true they'll mean everything my dreams and your love for me will bridge the distance you'll see and when you wonder why i'll wonder with you and when you cry, i'll cry too beyond the truth there must be brighter skies within the heart lies the reason why there is no reason why i am the greyest sky each time you wonder why i was afraid of this life there is no mystery, there is no misery we'll all go on with our lives

my love, your dreams

within the heart lies the reason why
