

Melissa Dori Dye, No Inbetween

your eyes say to me you are angry i don't show you
i'm angry too

your heart says to me you lonely i feel lonely when next to you tell me what you've done to me are you afraid of what i'll see there's no in between here i can leave you where you stand you just think you're so invincible does that make you a man?

all the trust i have in you is fading in the night oh once you really hurt me you can never make it right then i look deeper in you eyes i know you could be such a good man why don't you show me

ya never show me

i think of the love that we could have aren't you lonely i know you're lonely

don't wanna listen when they tell me how you lie they would love to see us fall don't wanna prove em right

there's no in between here
does that make you a man?

why do i look into your eyes?

there's nothing more that i can say to make you change your mind you're the one who should be telling me that it's alright
