

Melissa Ferrick, Getting Over You

I thought this was gonna get easier was getting over you and I thought time would prove to be a healer and i'd come to realize i was never right for you

but love comes and goes as easy as the moon and sun will rise and when i try to let you go all i can hear my heart saying is come on back inside

but what do you do when life takes a breath and you're standing on a hill staring down at your past wondering where you went wrong and how you got here into this dark dark place way beyond fear

and love comes and goes and comes and goes

please do not touch me
cause i am not ready yet
i'm getting over you

i'm still getting over you
i'm getting over you
