

Melissa Ferrick, Will You Be The One

will you be the one i've wanted?
and heal me with your eyes?
will i look at you with wonder
and never doubt our love?
yeah, are you the one
that i've been dreaming of?
yeah. yeah.

run around my head
and i rehearse our introduction.
run around in my car,
i find the best way to your house.
and even though i have never seen you
from what my friends tell me,
you are walking grace.

so who would've thought i'd be sitting here
thinking my future could be right down the street.
after all the loves i have lost over borders and over states.
and now i found out, yeah that you and i, we drink coffee
at the very same place.

and heal me with your eyes?
will i look at you with wonder
and never doubt our love?
yeah, are you be the one
that i've been dreaming of?
yeah, yeah.

i guess i am a hopeless romantic.
i am full of pretty lines.
it's also true what you have heard about me
i fall in love every time.
so please let me down easy
if i am not what you want.
would you let me down easy
i've got a really weak heart.
yeah, yeah.

so could you be the one?

and heal me with your eyes?
will i look at you with wonder
and never doubt our love?
yeah, are you be the one
that i've been dreaming of?
