

Melody Gardot, Wicked Ride

Mmm..yeah

There comes a time in every little girl's life
When her momma says, Girl, do your best Cause one day you may come to find

That all of your life has been a wicked ride
There comes a time in every young woman's life
When all of the men though they come and again
Its hardly enough to survive
And she starts to think life is a wicked ride

(scat)

There comes a time in every old woman's life
When she takes a look in her picture book
And then she begins to realize
That all of her life has been a wicked ride
All of her life, all of her life, all of her life has been a wicked ride
