

Melon Diesel, You'Re Chocolate

You were chocolate
Cola coloured eyes, sweet in everyway
A warm breath of fresh air
That goes into me
Music are the words that you say to me
You made me strong believing that

That I can say just what I want
I can say just what I feel
Now chocolate you are with me
Please say just what you say
Just give me what I need
Cos chocolate now you know me

You were chocolate
A lover in disguise, but not a wife for me
Your perfumed scented aura put a spell on me
Now I just can't break free from the memory
That makes this so believing

Oh sweet chocolate, say that you're mine
Oh sweet chocolate, everything's fine
Oh sweet chocolate, now I don't know why
