

Melotron, Broken

All that I wanted
All that I ever thought
That I could be
Laid in your hands

I never thought
That I would take it back
Now I want to
I want to
For all the love I offered you
And I thank you
I thank you
For showing me
What I don't want to be

Where are you now
I face my final tears
To realize
Your not here to see
That everything's broken
Where are you now
I face my final fear
To realize
Your not here to see
That everything's broken
Where are you now

Take my illusions
Take all my dreams
You send to me
Out of my head

I never thought
That I would give it back
Now I want to
I want to
For all the love I offered you
And I thank you
I thank you
For showing me
What I don't want to be

Where are you now
I face my final tears
To realize
Your not here to see
That everything is broken
Where are you now
I face my final fear
To realize
Your not here to see
Where are you now
