

Memphis Slim, Don't Think That You're Smart

Don't think you're smart, because you've got every man in town

Don't think you're smart, woman, because you've got every man in town

Well, well, woman you ain't doin' nothin', woo, well, well, would tear your reputation down

There's no man that wants a woman, that comes staggin' down the street

No man wants a woman, that comes staggin' down the street

Well because you ain't no good woman, woo, well, well, you'll get drunk with every man you meet

I can get drunk, roll in the gutter, get up and brush myself off

I can roll in the gutter, get up and brush myself off

Now, well, but if you should happen to do so woman, woo, well, well, woman your reputation is gone

Now don't think I'm scoldin', I'm just tryin' to you to learn

Don't think I'm scoldin', I'm just tryin' to to learn

Well, well, that a woman reputation, woo, well, well, it's somethin' that money can't earn
