

Menomena, Boyscout'n

So stop and take it all in slowly
'Cause this short glimpse is not the only Chance that you will have to See all the ways that I Can prove myself as worthy
To be the one and only true sure thing
Sure thing

I can't believe I lent my hand
To help destroy a helpless man
Maybe it's a long shot now
But still I say
You should not, sir, survive this fall
Then I pray, if I pray at all,
I can catch my breath and
come away unscathed,
away unscathed.

I once believed you were my savior
But now you're nothing but a traitor.
But still, I wait for you return.
I get the feeling I have waited out a lifetime
For a lot to lose but nothing to gain, nothing to gain.

I can't believe I lent my hand
To help destroy a helpless man
Maybe it's a long shot now
But still I say
You should not, sir, survive this fall
Then I pray, if I pray at all,
I can catch my breath and
come away unscathed,
away unscathed
away unscathed.
