

Menswear, Tomorrow

I'm drifting into an empty space
I might look out of place
But that's the way it is
Sun sinking, evening streaks across the sky
The sun no longer blinds my eyes
And you seem far away
And it's so quiet here
I will be born again tomorrow
I will be free of all this sorrow
I'm beginning a chapter of my life
The stars they shine so bright
And I don't have a home
With each step the road unfolds in front of me
Mountains stretch out into the sea and I can hear its song
And it's so lonely here
I will be born again tomorrow
I will be free of all your sorrow
And all my love
angels no longer play summers so far away...from all my love
I will be born again tomorrow
I will be free from all this sorrow
And all my love
I'm drifting into an empty space
I may be out of place
And that's the way it is
I'm glowing into the evening skies
The hills' stretch out before my eyes
I've gone so far today
And I'm so happy here
I will be born again tomorrow
I will be free from all this sorrow
And all my love
