

Mentallo & The Fixer, Afterglow

Rise above this madness breaking of sadness dismissing of al blackness
I do confess psycho analysis tilting of your axis
Entering praxis just lay it to rest won't settle for less
In the aftermath of your trechid past stabbed in the back
What do you see facing all the facts skin showing trax in common sense
You lack idiot unwilling sanity spilling just stop the killing
Actions speak louder than words & sometimes the truth hurts
So accept it for what it's worth but you never give up the search
Feelings of lament borderline descent twisted & bent cry to be free
A need to repent for the anger you did vent wish to be content
Enter plea of guilty inside you scream as far as the eyes can see
Over corners high now you're reaching low hear the bells
Ringing out over the falling snow the laughter flows in the afterglow
Onto life you cling just living in a dream sense heightening
So enlightening so frightening.
