

Mentallo & The Fixer, Virtually Hopeless

note: This song is instrumental, but the liner notes have the following lyrics

How can we stray just think - think of tomorrow's children will
To see a day when we decided to throw all of our differences out of the way
There's just extreme hatred for the ways of man lust greed pain
It's so ashamed not to really care
Is it really worth bringing one more life here when no one dares
To think clear just to think about their tomorrows
Lost in twilights sorrow
No one cares no one dares to hear that day draws near this is what I fear
It might be too late that's the way it seems what does this mean
When tears fall like rain it leads me to believe there is suffering Never to achieve dreams their future to bleak & empty.