

Mercury Rev, Across Yer Ocean

And where we go from here, is anybody's guess,
These thoughts I've got inside, ain't easy to confess,
My hand upon my heart, I draw a little breath, cos I've fallen down, (down, down, down...)

And I bleed and I feel that it's all too real,
On a wave of emotion sending ships across yer ocean,
And I've lost all my reasons...but it's you I can...believe in

And looking in your eyes, the stars they fall away,
And holding to your hand I waste away the day,
I've got to make it known, I've got to let you see,
But I'm not so strong...

And I bleed and I feel that it's all too real,
On a wave of emotion sending ships across yer ocean,
And I've lost all my reasons...when it's you I can...believe in

Believe in, believe in, ohh
Believe in, believe in, ohh

No I'm not that strong

And I bleed and I feel that it's all too real,
On a wave of emotion sending ships across yer ocean,
And a way of feeling that inside I know I'm healing,
All these waves of emotion sending ships across yer ocean,
And I've lost all my reasons...but it's you I can...

Believe in
