

Mercury Rev, Arise

She has a way that is beautiful to behold,
Movements of silence and calm,
A universe of life folded up inside her,
A symphony of strangeness and charm

An she knows

Every now and then there's an ocean of silver,
Concealing herself as a stream,
Scars in her life that she once tried to hide,
Healing themselves as she breathes

An she knows
What she knows

Feel yerself arise
Feel yerself arise
Y' let yerself go
An tell yerself you'll know when you know

She has a way that is beautiful to behold,
An every now and then you can see,
A universe of light splashed in her eyes,
Revealing the only light she needs

An she knows
What she knows

Feel yerself arise
Feel yerself arise
Y' let yerself go
An tell yerself you'll know when you know
