Mercyful Fate, Sucking Your Blood

I can see it in your mystery eyes I can feel it on your breath tonight The yearning for time, the yearning for eternal life

Oh... oh... oh... sucking your blood, oh... oh... oh

Let me look you deep in the eyes Let me look... into your mind Let me take you to a room full of life Let me, let me, let me suck your wine

Oh...oh...oh...sucking your blood Oh...oh...oh...sucking you, sucking your blood

A Chandelier is our source of light I'm breathing in the golder air tonight Time... is right, it's your innocent skin I like

Your neck is so delicately white, inviting my mouth for the bite My teeth... your vein, like wine from a chalice I drink

Oh...oh...oh...sucking your blood Oh...oh...sucking you, sucking your blood

Solo: Shermann

Your warm juices colour my throat What unheavenly joy, turning yours into mine

Me... part of you, oh you are the wine Sucking your blood before the night is torn How could this ever, ever be a sin

If you would pull the stake from my heart If you would let me draw another card Maybe the Morning Star will blind our eyes Maybe the Morning Star will bless another night

Solo: Shermann-Wead

Maybe the Morning Star will blind our eyes Maybe the Morning Star will bless another night Me... part of you, you are the wine
