

MercyMe, Safe And Sound

No more boarding up my windows
So that I can lay low
Nobody's home
No more trying to run away from
Tired of being afraid of
What I can't control

The hardest part I'm always told
Is letting go

Safe and sound knowing that you're big enough to Rap around my heart completely
Safe and sound just knowing that you know me

I can finally set my heart free
Lost within the mystery
Of this love I've found

There is nothing that can pull me
From the hand that holds me
I'm safe and sound

The hardest part I'm always told
Is letting go
Bridge
The greatest part now I know
Is letting go
