

MercyMe, You're To Blame

I'm not one to pass the blame
But this is one I cannot claim even if I wanted to There's something happening
There's something going on with me
And I think I like the view from where I'm standing

You are to blame for anything that is good in my heart
You are to blame for this change that has taken me by storm

There's one thing I am wondering
What exactly do You see that makes you want to stay
I don't deserve Your attention
Why would You ever mention me
Why You're treating me this way remains a mystery

Bridge
And I feel like I can fly
Just knowing I am Yours
And knowing that You're mine
I cannot ask for more
