

Meriwether, New Orleans Rip

I am a robot
here to systematically defeat all of the human race with weapons of light and sounds designed to confuse your little simple minded brains and i am a god i'm a machine i am playing all of you and this is a fire this is a flood this is what drowning looks like from above this was a city and now it's the sea this is what helplessness looks like to me i am an airplane
i fly like superheroes but i'm different cause i'm made of steel and pieces of paper with letters of love being thrown without a care somewhere deep into outerspace blown WAY out of proportion so pray for our sinners now and at the hour of our death one nation under whatever there will be left so pray for our sinners now and at the hour of their death startswithakendwithana it was a storm a beautiful storm
...and your paper before you go?
