

Meriwether, Putting To Sleep A Lion

If you could go away. If you could fall asleep without me. If you could dream of love, and not dream

We put to sleep this lion. You closed your eyes and died again.

If you could fly away. If you could spread your wings without me. If god has plans for you, then would

We put to sleep this lion. You closed your eyes and died again. Youve got this empty feeling that ro

We put to sleep this lion, without me. If you could dream of love, and not dream of me. If you could