

Merle Haggard, Every Fool Has A Rainbow

Every fool has rainbow b
But he never seems to find
The reward that should be waiting
At the end of the line
But he'll give up a bed of roses for
A life filled with thorns
And go chasing after rainbows
Everytime the dream is born
And every fool has a rainbow that only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow and the rule replies to me
And every fool has a rainbow that only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow and the rule replies to me