

Merle Haggard, I Forget You Every Day

Mem'ries is a gift man can't live without
And at times we can't control the things we think about
Sometimes I remember you in every way
But for a little while I forget you every day
Seems like I forget you just in time
Cause it's always just before I lose my mind
I wake up every morning hurtin' the same old way
But for a little while I forget you every day
[steel - guitar]
Seems like I forget you every day, just in time
And it's always just before I lose my mind
I wake up every morning hurtin' the same old way
But for a little while I forget you every day