

Merle Haggard, My Life's Been A Pleasure (I Still

I still love you as I did in yesterday

Many years have gone by though it seems just like a day

It's no wonder that I love you you have been so kind and true

There will never be another it will always be just you

We've come along the way together when you've proved your love is true

My life's been a pleasure and it's all because of you

And to me you'll always be just as sweet as flowers in May

And I'll still love you as I did in yesterday

[guitar - violin]

I still love you as I did in yesterday...

And to me you'll always be...
